

Hi Gael!

I sent you an email yesterday, but wanted to follow up with a little more information about myself, and about AOEU.

Just like you, I taught K-12 art. And, just like you, I wanted to earn a master's degree to grow as a professional. From an art teacher's perspective, let me share two reasons why I believe AOEU is the best option:

1. It's relevant. Other master's degrees pile on the work. You're an art teacher, so I know you're already busy. You probably feel like it's already impossible to get everything done at work!

It's different at AOEU. All of your courses will actually help you get your work done. Need to create and turn in lesson plans? Check! Have to share with admin how you're assessing students? Done! Boggled down with creating samples and instructional tools? You'll get it all done in your courses. You can earn graduate credits while you do your job.

2. It's affordable. In fact, AOEU offers the most affordable, accredited, online program in the United States. Why pay more for your degree?

At less than $14k - including all tuition and fees - The Art of Education University is dedicated to providing an affordable option for working teachers. The program is about half the cost of comparable online master's degrees in art education. With salary advancement and new opportunities, your degree just might pay for itself in a year or two!

And, every part of this master's program is created, delivered, and supported by art teachers - our faculty, your academic advisor, our curriculum writers... And the other students in the program? They're art teachers, too. As art teachers, we put our students first. Today, it's time you do something that will serve them and you. Isn't it time you put yourself in the picture?

Trust me. You don't want to wait any longer to take the next step!
